Introduction

Back to Basics is focused on communication and cooperation. How well are you in working together with others? Are you really as social as you think you are? And what about solving a problem together or coming to an agreement? How do I take initiative and go for it? How do I take actions?

For who is it?

If you are between 18 and 21 and if you're searching what to do in life and which choice to make when it comes to study and work; if you want to learn more about working together in an international group and taking initiative, communication & cooperation, then Back to Basics might be something for you!

FOCUS QUESTIONS

How do my actions lead to desired results? How can I communicate better with others? How do I behave in a group when working with it? To what extent I want to dare expanding my limits?

FOCUS THEMES

Initiative, cooperation, communication, challenging myself

IN A NUTSHELL

During the exchange you will be active all the time with all kind of different activities. So it is mainly doing things and then look back on what you did, why you did it and what you got out of it. This will be done in working together with persons from other countries. During several dynamic activities we will explore what your opportunities and possibilities are. During the activities different working methods will be used, like photography, video, simulation game, interviewing and theatre. Furthermore, several outdoor activities will be organised in a way that you can put in practice your communication & cooperation skills.

International evenings

In Back to Basics we will do mainly outdoor activities. Some will last a few hours, some will last half a day, and some will last a few days. In these activities we will focus a lot on taking initiative; finding a solution for a problem; how to work in a group in order to overcome an obstacle; how to use everything around you in order to help you solve your issue; cooperation.

The highlight of the exchange is an outdoor activity of 3 nights in which you get several assignments and need to manage yourself with no phone, money or other kind of luxury and where you need to find a sleeping place yourself.

Be prepared to feel adrenaline, to feel fear, to feel success, to feel failure, but most of all,
to have fun!

INTERNATIONAL EVENING

During the exchange we ask you to cook a typical, traditional meal from your country for the entire group. This includes a delicious dessert! We invite you to take us to your culture, traditions, habits, customs etc. in your culinary creation as well as entertainment after dinner, think of typical dances, games, a quiz, a karaoke, a theatre play, the sky is the limit! Just as long as you can entertain us for 1 hour in which everyone is involved.

GREEN TRAVEL

Travelling by train, carpooling or bus (e.g. Flixbus). If you can travel with your group through green means, then you get a higher travel budget as well, and the advantage is that you can also spend a night somewhere else, like in Germany for instance for a road trip and visit to another place, in which the accommodation is also (partially) covered.

Location

You will be staying at the group accommodation Veldhoeve (Veldhoeve website)

- There is a washing machine at Veldhoeve.
- The buildings are provided with Wi-Fi connection.
- Bed linen will be provided, it can be handy to bring your own sleeping bag
- There are plenty of showers and toilets in Veldhoeve accommodation. You do need to bring your own towels, soap and shampoo.
- Weather in Netherlands can be crazy. Bring warm and light clothes, but most of all, bring rain proof, comfortable and old clothes as well, mostly for the outdoor activities!

During Back to Basics we need to maintain and keep the building clean ourselves, a carousel schema will be made in which everyone is equally involved in cleaning several parts of the building during the entire period.
