

EUROPEAN SEMINAR

Promoting cooperation between non-formal education and formal education through European cooperation and exchange projects.

LEARNING IN THE CLASSROOM, AND OUTSIDE THE CLASSROOM?

Can we design learning pathways that extend beyond school walls, while remaining coherent with learner profiles, local context, and societal evolution?

Europe's cultural richness teaches us about the diversity of possible connections between formal and non-formal education, varying by country, practices, and approaches to the act of educating.

This seminar aims to bring together teachers and youth workers, directors of school and non-school institutions, both French and European, to enrich our practices and perspectives on education, to imagine new ways of teaching and to build educational pathways with diverse approaches.

Initiate new concrete projects for European cooperation
