

CREATIVE & DATA-SMART YOUTH WORK WITH AI: INCLUSION, PARTICIPATION, IMPACT

Berlin, Germany

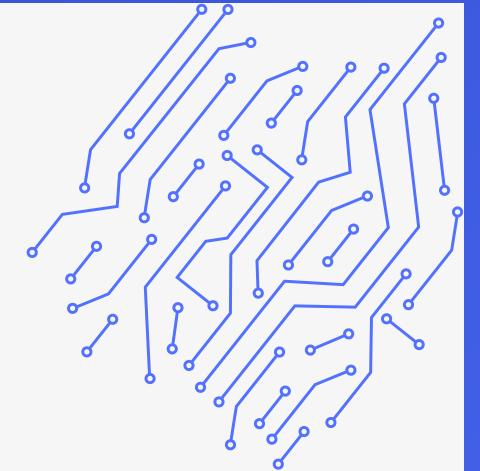

15 Dec 2025 – 22 Dec 2025

ABOUT THE PROJECT

AI systems already shape what young people see, learn, and believe. Youth workers need practical AI literacy, a clear grasp of risks (bias, privacy, deepfakes), and concrete safeguarding protocols. Berlin's vibrant tech and civil-society scene offers an ideal ecosystem for learning with real cases and responsible-innovation actors.

OBJECTIVES:

- Build AI literacy: demystify how common AI models work (recommendation, LLMs, vision), where they help/harm, and how to explain them to teens.
- Embed ethics & safety: address bias, transparency, privacy/GDPR, deepfake detection, and age-appropriate use policies.
- Strengthen safeguarding: design protocols for consent, data minimisation, digital wellbeing, and crisis escalation in AI-enabled settings.
- Create ready-to-use resources: lesson plans and guidelines youth workers can deploy immediately.

CORE ACTIVITIES

* AI 101 FOR YOUTH WORK:

Hands-on demos (chatbots, image tools), "how it works" visual walkthroughs, and myth-busting.

* DEEPFAKES & MISINFORMATION STUDIO

Verify images/videos, watermarking basics, detection tools, and classroom simulations.

* STAKEHOLDER ROUNDTABLE (BERLIN):

Dialogue with a local NGO/ethics lab on responsible AI in education/youth contexts

* BIAS & FAIRNESS LAB

Test prompts/datasets, observe skewed outputs, and apply mitigation tactics; build a short "ethics checklist."

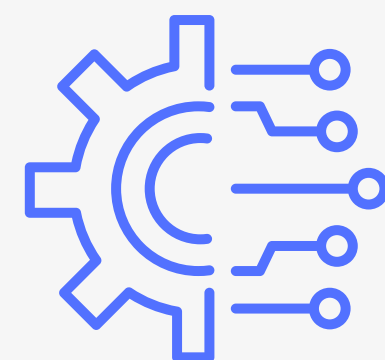

* POLICY & PRACTICE CLINIC:

Draft an AI Use & Safeguarding Policy for youth centres (consent, age gating, logging, red lines).

* DAILY REFLECTIONS & FEEDBACK SPRINTS

To keep learning adaptive.

EXPECTED RESULTS & IMPACT

TOOLKIT:

AI literacy lesson plans, a bias-check checklist, deepfake-verification guide, and a model AI Safeguarding Policy.

YOUTHPASS

Documented competences in digital literacy, ethics, and risk management.

IMPLEMENTATION PLANS:

Each participant leaves with a 3–6 month roadmap to roll out AI literacy sessions safely.

Each country will have approximately 15 minutes for their presentation. Please coordinate with your national teams in advance to organize your contribution.

MUG EXCHANGE

On the first day of the project, we will have a special event: “Mug Exchange”. Each participant must bring a mug from their country and exchange it with another participant.

You may bring it from home or buy it — the choice is yours. The most important part is that the mug should come with a story, so be creative!

Your mug could be traditional, funny, cute, or simply have an interesting story behind it. Let’s create memories together!

MEAL POLICY

Every participant will receive a 70 EUR allowance to cook together in the apartments, fostering intercultural exchange through the joy of food and shared culinary adventures.
