“EUROmosaic of Diversity: Seminar to exchange resources and good practices based on Arts and Culture to promote Inclusion and contribute to the achievement of EU youth objectives.” Seminar on good practices to stimulate creativity, arts, and culture among young people. This seminar promotes the exchange of good practices, resources, and tools to promote culture and youth participation in projects related to creativity and arts to promote inclusion and the achievement of EU youth objectives.

This seminar will serve to improve the quality of projects by exchanging and analyzing the applicability of good practices and tools created and implemented within the framework of Erasmus+ Youth and European Solidarity Corps projects in creativity, arts, and inclusive culture. The activity methodology will focus on non-formal peer learning, using different methods and media that allow for maximum exchange and interaction among participants. Workshops will be organized to present projects, experiences, best practices, and tools for innovation in youth work and participation in projects related to creativity, art, and inclusive culture.

Our objectives in this reflective and creative project are:

To raise awareness about the EU youth goals.

To offer a space for the exchange of projects, experiences, and good practices among the different stakeholders of the Erasmus+ Youth and European Solidarity Corps (ESC) programs, as well as the tools developed and used by European organizations within the framework of projects and experiences related to creativity, art, and inclusive culture.

To strengthen the work of the EU youth goals regarding Inclusion, Diversity, and Youth Participation.

To create spaces for debate, analysis, and reflection on the tools and experiences presented to improve the quality of future Erasmus+ Youth and European Solidarity Corps (ESC) projects.

To strengthen the community of stakeholders involved in the implementation of Erasmus+ Youth and European Solidarity Corps (ESC) projects.

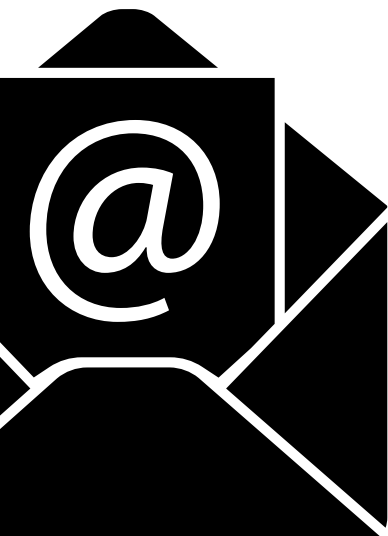

In short, this project is a great opportunity to share the realities around us, learning from the realities of others and creating a safe space for doing so.
