ABOUT THE PROJECT

This project creates a space for young people to connect across borders, develop confidence, and build skills for life and work. Participants will engage in workshops, group discussions, and cultural activities exploring themes like diversity, belonging, and civic participation. Through this shared experience, young people will discover how to contribute meaningfully to their communities, exercise their voice in society, and become active agents of change at local and European levels.

Funded by the European Union

OBJECTIVES

- Support personal growth for youth with limited travel opportunities.
Build confidence, language, digital, and intercultural skills to prepare participants for education and employment.
- Combat discrimination through intercultural dialogue and inclusive activities. Empower disadvantaged young people to overcome barriers and actively contribute to diverse communities.
- Inspire youth to engage in decision-making and civic life.
Explore participation tools and develop ideas for positive community change at local and European levels.

WORKING METHODS

Funded by
the European Union

This project uses non-formal education to make learning active, interactive, and meaningful. Participants will engage in workshops, group discussions, creative activities, and peer-to-peer learning to explore key themes. We'll use methods like brainstorming, role plays, debates, and small group conversations to encourage participation and idea-sharing as well as team-building exercises to create strong connections among participants. Throughout the project, there will be regular moments for reflection and evaluation so everyone can learn from their experiences.

All participants will receive a Youthpass certificate! Learn more at www.youthpass.eu
