For you.

Short intro

From Procedure to Participation is a training course for youth workers, trainers and project coordinators who want to make the necessary but often unpopular parts of Erasmus+ projects more engaging, understandable and meaningful for participants.

During the mobility, participants will explore gamification as both a mindset and a design method, looking at how game elements can support motivation, clarity, participation and reflection without making learning superficial.

The group will work with concrete Erasmus+ moments such as Youthpass explanation, reimbursement procedures, daily reflection, final evaluation, group agreements and dissemination tasks, then test existing examples, redesign them and create new ready-to-use formats for future projects.

Main objectives

- Understand gamification, when to use it, and its benefits, limits, and ethical risks in youth work and Erasmus+ learning.
- Identify boring or confusing project moments and make them more inclusive, engaging, and clear.
- Test gamified activities and adapt them to different groups, contexts, and budgets.
- Create practical tools for Youthpass, reimbursement, reflection, evaluation, onboarding, and follow-up using AI tools.
- Strengthen cooperation by sharing tools, feedback, and ideas for more innovative and participant-friendly projects.

Target group

Youth workers

- Age 18+
- Interested in the project topic with basic digital skills
- Involved in youth work in participating organisation or organisations that regularly work with young people at local level
- Motivated to actively participate in sharing their experiences and good practices
- Coming from EU countries, third countries associated and not associated to the Programme

We are able to involve up to 30 youth workers including participants with fewer opportunities and special needs. We are eager to seek for possibilities to lower the barriers to access.

Together, we will create a non-judgmental and open-minded space for learning.
