GETTING TO GRAZ

Graz has an airport nearby. If you decide to come to Graz by plane, you can take a train from the airport to the main central station.

The second option is to fly to Vienna and then take either Flixbus or train to Graz.

Other options would be taking a plane to Bratislava, Zagreb, Ljubljana, Munich or Linz and then coming by train or Flixbus to Graz. Please check www.oebb.at for train tickets. If you buy two or three weeks in advance, chances are they will be cheaper.

Check flixbus.at for bus connections. Take Girardigasse stop, as it is central in Graz

In the very center of Graz, you can travel 3 stops for free with the Altstadtbim. Our office is close to Jakominiplatz, so you can always cross the city centre from Kunsthause, Schlossbergplatz or Hauptplatz faster with any of the trams for free. Finanzamt is also close to us.

GETTING AROUND in GRAZ

ibis budget Graz City,
Neubaugasse 11, 8020 Graz

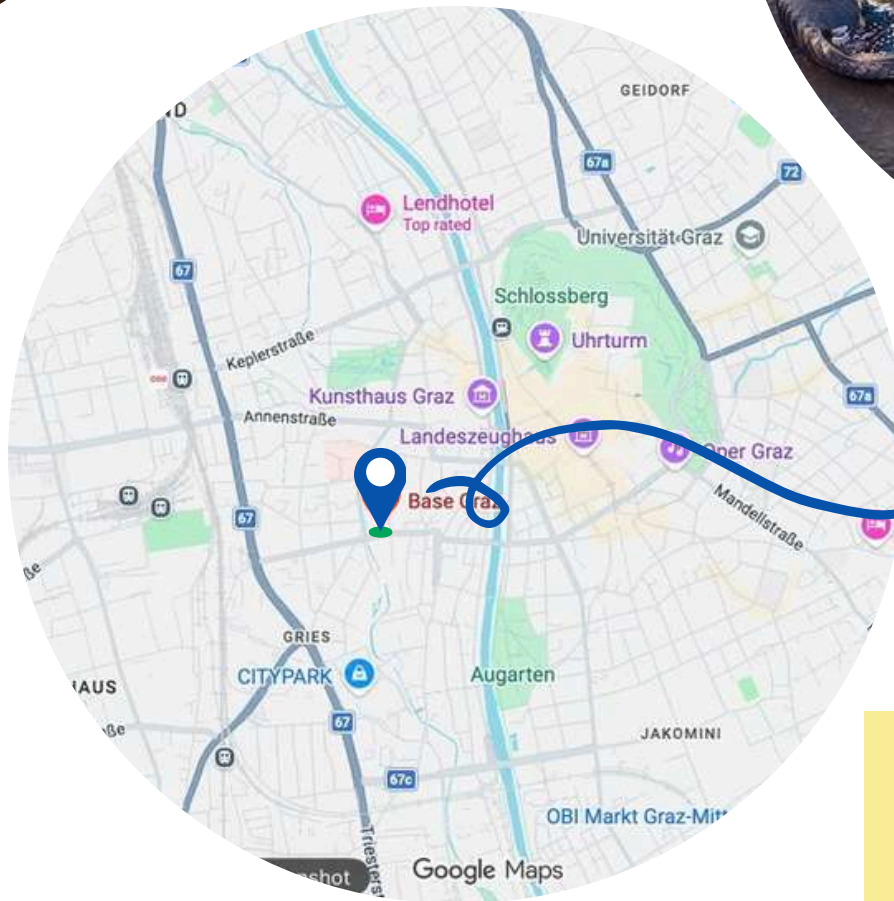

Hotel Mercure Graz City,

Museums in Graz

There are several museums in Graz that you might find interesting. 2 of them are in around the river bank.

Venue of the meeting:
Dreihackengasse 32
(subject to change)

We will be staying in the central part of Graz with Jakominiplatz (central public transport hub) just around the corner and the city centre a step away. Since we are basically already in the centre, there are a lot of options for accommodation. The places on the map are our suggestions.

To reach the train station you can also take the tram lines 1, 4, 6 and 7.

The ride from there to the train station lasts 5 minutes by tram.

1 hour ticket costs 3.20 EUR

24 hours ticket costs 7 EUR

Same prices apply for tram and bus.

These are frequent lines,

you shouldn't wait for more than 5 minutes at the station between 8:00 and 19:00 daily.

After 19 o'clock there are fewer busses and trams.

Sightseeing,
main square, castle ...
10 - 15 minutes on foot
